The peace measures of the last session are: the Texan boundary act, the act for establishing the two Territorial Governments of New Mexico and Utah. the act for the abolition of the slave trade in the District of Columbia, and the fugitive slave law. This last measure, gentlemen, is not such a measure as I had prepared before I left the Senate, and which of course I should have supported if I had remained in the Senate. But it received the sanction of the two Houses of Congress and of the United States. It is the law of the land, and as such is to be respected and cheyed by all good citizens. Gentlemen, I am led to the adoption of your last resolution in an especial and emphatic manner, by every dictate of my understanding, and I embrace it with full purpose of heart and mind. Its sentiment is my sentiment. With you, I declare that I " range myself under the banner of that party whose principles and practice are most calculated to uphold the Constitution and to perpetuate our glorious Union." I feel its invigorating influence while I am writing these few lines; and I shall return shortly to my post to discharge its duties as well as I can, and resolved in all events, that, so far as depends upon me, our Union shall pass through this fiery trial without the smell of smoke upon its garments.

THE FUGITIVE SLAVE LAW. The papers, North and South, are filled with the momentous bearings of this question. It seems to swallow up all other consideration s-for upon its perservation, we candidly believe, depends the existence of the Union. The extreme Eastern horizon is dark enough. Indeed, we should not be surprised to hear the human blood has crimsoned the streets of Boston. The villainous, detestable fanatics seem bent on bringing down upon their lawless heads, the indignation of an insulted people, the strong arm of the civil and the military power itself. If the President and the Federal officers do their duty, this law will be executed, " at all hazards, and to the last extremity." Threatening as that view may be, we are pleased to see a few brighter streaks in other parts of the horizon. The glorious Union meeting in New York, with its tens of thousands of patriotic spirits clustered around the country's altar, speaks out thunder-tones of rebuke to miserable fanatics. We trust that the patriotic strain will be caught up and run like fire over the whole North, blasting the traitors, and lighting up the Fugitive Slave Law. Mr. Webster says: " This the torches of the Constitution and the Union. If this meeting falls dead, the Union itself will be gone Rich. Eng.

A REVERSE OF FORTUNE. The Milwaukee Advertiser, furnishes a remarkable instance of the changes which sometimes occur in a man's lifetime. GETTING INSURED. The Troy Post relates a " good joke " of Jacob Barker, the Quaker, who, hearing the loss of one of his vessels which he had omitted to get insured, wrote to a broker, with whom he had

A BEAUTIFUL FLOWER. A friend presented us a day or two since with a curiosity in the shape of a flower which we think is one of the greatest wonders of the floral kingdom we have ever seen. It is about the size of a walnut, perfectly white, with five leaves, resembling very much indeed the wax plant. Upon back, with its wings extended. The peak of the bill, and the eyes are plainly to be seen, and a small leaf, before the flower arrives at maturity, forms the outspread tail. We are connected, as all our customers know-and if they don't know it, they may-with no Northern House -but are Tailors ourselves -buy our own goods, and import quite as many of what we purchase in proportion o our business, as any House in this State or out of it. There is no Establishment here or elsewhere that possesses any advantages over us. We buy where everbody else buys, and we think we understand our business and buy as cheaply. We say our CLOTHING is equalto any ever offered for sale in North Carolina, and, we think superior, being judges ourselves of clothing. Of that though, we will leave the public to decide, when they examine for themselves. One thing is certainwithout intending to reflect upon any one-we will sell our clothing cheaper than the same articles can be bought for in any of the Northern cities; and as cheap as any body that comes here, who does not steal his-clothing ready made.

Our stock embraces Drab, Black, Blue, Green, Gray. and other OVERCOATS from $6 to $20 and upwards. CLOAKS, full circle, $18 and upwards. Flock, dress. and sack COATS from $7 to $12 and upwards. PAN-TALOONS, all colors and prices, from $4 to $8 -VESTS, all kinds and all sizes, at all prices from $1 25 to $5. In fact, every thing that can be found in any similar establishment in the Union.

We are North Carolinians. We are permanently located here, and it we sell as cheap as others, why not give us the preference? If we do not sell as good goods at as small a price, we will not ask your patronige. Call ! call ! call ! before your purchase, at OLIVER & PROCTER'S,
